

DISCUSS EFFECT OF EUROPE'S WAR

Local Opinion Is That It Will Be a Means of Opening Up the South American Markets to U. S. Manufacturers.

What effect the present war in Europe will have on South Bend industrial activities, came up for discussion yesterday in various quarters. Whether the struggle if continued indefinitely will be a boom to local manufacturers or whether it have a deteriorating effect is the question raised.

H. G. Spaulding, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday that he had not made a close investigation of the matter, but saw various possibilities. Primarily, he, Mr. Spaulding, sees a rosy opportunity for local manufacturers and exporters to go after South American trade. Already he said, Chicago business men have realized the opportunity and may take steps towards obtaining some of the trade with the South American continent. Mr. Spaulding suggested a co-operation by local men with Chicago men to obtain some of the fruits of the trade. Harry Engman, president of the commercial body also saw the opportunity for South Bend exporters and believe Mr. Spaulding's suggestion a good one.

Two manufacturing industries have already been named which may be affected seriously by the war. One is the South Bend Watch company. Many of the smaller parts of the watch which is assembled here such as hair springs, jewels, etc., are imported from Switzerland, Germany and France. A blockade of commerce on the European coast along with internal stoppage of trade might seriously hamper the local establishment in the manufacture of its product, it is believed.

The industrial leather goods manufactured in Mishawaka may also sustain a blow by the stopping of all big passenger steamers and cessation of bookings. The greater part of this company's output consists of traveling bags, steamer trunks and grips and a lull in tourist traffic may decrease orders in that line.

A branch factory of the Singer Sewing machine corporation was established recently in Russia and is feared may be closed on account of the struggle.

MILITARY IN CHARGE OF PORT AT QUEBEC

Only Vessels Disobeying Orders Will Be Fired On Is the Announcement.

QUEBEC, Que., Aug. 4.—Col. Landry, commander of the fifth division, issued orders Monday putting the port of Quebec under charge of military authorities. Owners of navigation steamers are advised to get their steamers in by daylight.

An inspecting vessel was stationed at Maheux Bay, Island of Orleans. No vessel will be allowed to enter port unless it flies special signals day and night. No vessel will be able to leave the point of inspection before it has a signed clearance. Any vessel disobeying this order will be fired upon.

WROTE FUNERAL DIRGE

Wilbert F. Heath Composes Selection at Lincoln Services.

DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 4.—Wilbert F. Heath, the oldest thirty-third degree Mason in this section died Monday after a lingering illness. He was police magistrate for many years. Formerly he managed clothing stores for a New York firm at Springfield, Ill., Bloomington, Ottawa, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Danville, Ill. At the time of Lincoln's assassination he composed the dirge which was played by the band which led the procession at the Springfield funeral.

JOHN LIND MAY BE RETURNED TO MEXICO

Reported on Good Authority That He Is to Replace George Carothers.

Washington, Aug. 4.—It is reported on good authority that the state department proposes to send John Lind to Mexico to be with Gen. Villa. He will replace Consul General Geo. Carothers. Mr. Lind's mission will be to report generally on northern Mexico, but with special reference to the plans of Villa.

Senor Castello, who is Carballo's personal representative at Washington, called on Secy. Bryan today to make inquiries as to the military movements of Carranza. The department, it was stated, has no news except that the Carballo delegates had arrived at Saltillo.

"Be Sophisticated To Be Truly Charming" Advice of Beautiful Beverly Bayne

BY IDAH MCGLONE GIBSON.

The girl with the personality of greatest appeal is the girl who is thoroughly sophisticated, as we today accept the definition of the word—that is, the girl who knows what she wants and gets it.

The mid-Victorian idea of the little, soft bit of feminine flesh, blood and nerves, who would faint at the sight of a mouse and die if caught where she could be seen by male eyes with her sleeves rolled up has been relegated to the dust heap of the past along with horse-hair upholstered furniture.

To have a personality which attracts, the girl of today must be very "knowing." She must never ask what is "honey" when her sweetheart is discussing golf. Neither must she clap her hands in wild glee when the best batter of the home team strikes out.

She must have an idea as to the probable effect of the "movies" on legitimate drama, and her knowledge of the tango must be perfect. A girl who has all these accomplishments need never worry if she has a freckle on her nose or a gold filling in her front teeth.

The time has changed since the shrinking violet kind of a girl has had her innings. "In fact, I do not believe that the shrinking violet ever had an inning," said Beverly Bayne. "Take, for instance, myself. Do you suppose I would have all the attention I am now having if I stayed at home and had not become a movie actress? Never in a thousand years."

Miss Bayne is not telling young women to be over-anxious to appear in public, but she is trying to impress it on the minds of all young women who see her in the picture plays and read these stories that a girl must have knowledge of what is going on in the world or at least a knowledge of what is being talked about in the set she moves in if she would be attractive.

A good working knowledge of housekeeping and cooking is a mighty good thing to keep a husband, but there are many showier, if less useful, accomplishments that make superior bait.

Don't think that all you have to do is to cream your face and keep your complexion without flaw to be called beautiful. For if you will stop to think calmly about it a moment you will realize that you know a lot of women quite as comely as Lillian Russell or Maxine Elliott, but they did not have a personal press agent to keep the fact before the public.

If you would have the kind of personality which makes for beauty and attractiveness be one of those few who know how much they must know in order to know how little they know.

The girl who knows has a warmer, more appealing beauty than the one who, because she does not know the conventional manners of the society in which she goes, is awkward and self-conscious.

Try and read every day at least one daily paper and don't skip the editorials or business features. This is a beauty hint which will add expression to your face and a magnetism to your personality which will mean more than mere physical beauty.

PLACE VALUE ON OLD CHURCH SITE

Corner at Jefferson and Main Is Worth $98,700 Say Appraisers.

Five appraisers appointed to ascertain the value of the old First M. E. church property, at Jefferson and Main st., for the board of county commissioners reported to the board on Monday that the location was worth $98,700. The actual value of the site of the old church was given as $95,000 but it was stated that the present owners had expended $3,700 in removing the building and placing it in its present condition.

No action was taken by the board in regard to the purchase of the property other than approving the report of the appraisers who were M. W. Mix, Charles P. Drummond, M. L. Brummet, G. B. Summers and J. L. Judie. The matter must go before the advisory board before any definite action can be taken and the petition of a number of citizens and the Young Men's Chamber of Commerce were placed on file for future consideration.

The petition of the trustees of North Liberty requesting the appointment of William McKessor as justice of peace was granted while the application of Ora Starbuck as night fireman at the county jail was also shelved for the present. George Kies was appointed agent for the saloon of Edward Klugbart who died recently.

MAROONED IN GERMANY

Charles Arnold in Geringsswalde, Saxony, Last Heard From.

Another South Bend man who is believed to be marooned in Germany since the outbreak of war, is Charles Arnold. No word has been received from him since last week when postal arrived from Geringsswalde, Saxony. These were received by his daughter, Mrs. T. C. McInerney, 1725 S. Michigan st. Mr. Arnold has been in Germany since March and expected to be gone for a year or more.

TO HAVE A PERSONALITY WHICH ATTRACTS, THE GIRL OF TODAY MUST BE VERY "KNOWING."

OLD POSTOFFICE AT NOTRE DAME TO GO

Father Maher Has Been in Charge for Fifty Years—New Building to Cost $5,000.

Work will begin this week on the new postoffice to be erected at Notre Dame. The old structure which has served in that capacity since 1861 has been removed and will be replaced by a handsome brick and stone structure several times as large. The new building will probably cost more than $5,000 and will be up-to-date and convenient in every respect.

It will be 40 x 40 and of white brick and limestone trimming to harmonize with the whole group of buildings at the university. When completed, about the first of September, it will compare favorably with any of the buildings at Notre Dame.

A postoffice was first established at Notre Dame in 1851, through the efforts of Henry Clay, whose picture now decorates the walls of the Columbian room at the university.

In 1861 the present building was erected, thus being one of the oldest buildings at the school. It has long been too small to accommodate the large amount of mail that goes and comes from Notre Dame.

Notre Dame is a second class post-office, being ranked so high on account of the large circulation of the Ave Marie published from there.

Fr. Maher, who has charge of the postoffice, finished his 25th year in that capacity last week.

THREE FIRES ON MONDAY

Little Damage Done But Firemen Make Runs.

Two grass fires within a half hour and within six blocks of each other furnished runs for the Central station yesterday afternoon.

Both alarms were still alarms, the first coming at 1 o'clock from the lot in rear of 535 1-2 N. Michigan st. and the second coming at 1:23 o'clock from Marquette av. Neither caused any damage.

Sparks from the chimney at the Birdwell factory set fire to the roof of the dry-kiln Monday afternoon at 12:25 o'clock. It was quickly extinguished and did no damage. The Central station responded to the alarm.

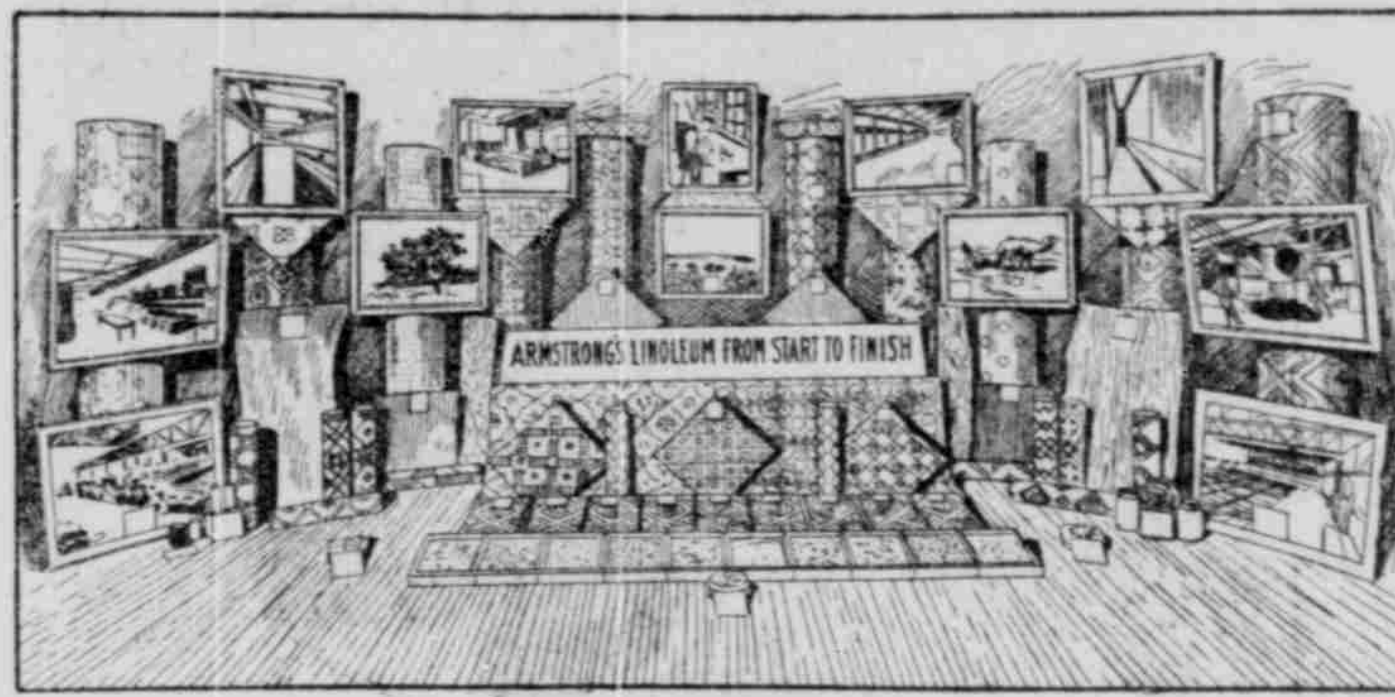

READ SCHOOL REPORTS

Annual reports of the school trustees were read at the meeting of the members of the county school board with County Superintendent of Schools R. H. Longfield at the court house on Monday afternoon. No report of the condition of schools can be given out until the completion of the figures in the reports is finished which will probably be in about 10 days.

Financial matters were also discussed.
